THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 29th, 1887.

A grand reception was given in Louisville last week to the "drummers".

Massachusetts Democrats have nominated H. H. B. Lovering for Governor.

Michael Davitt, the Irish leader, is on his way to America to spend a short time.

The Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias had a grand celebration at Lexington last week.

O'Brien, the Irish editor, has been tried and sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

Mr. Randall is reported as saying that, if he wished, he could prevent re-nomination of President Cleveland.

T. T. of Oldham county, Ky., has been appointed Register of the Land Office at Buffalo, Wyoming Territory.

The Massachusetts Democrats have already appointed delegates to the National Democratic Convention of 1888.

A railroad agent in Minnesota has been arrested by a United States Marshal, charged with violating the Interstate Commerce law.

The people of Millersburg have employed counsel and will fight in the courts the attempt to remove Kentucky Wesleyan College from town to Winchester.

Mr. Parnell has selected two Irish members of Parliament to sit the United States in the inter-continental cause, and they will arrive within a short time.

Stewart, a drug clerk of Kan., has been sentenced to seven years and four months in jail, and fined $2,800, for violating the prohibition law of the State.

There is said to be much dissatisfaction among the New York Republicans over the result of the recent convention held in that State. They are divided into Miller and Platt factions.

The steamer Alesia arrived at New York from Naples last week, having on board six hundred passengers, four of whom were sick with Asiatic cholera. Eight persons died of the dread disease during the voyage.

The Treasury officials say there are $75,000,000 more in circulation now than at a corresponding period last year. The stringency in the money market now alleged to exist is believed to be purely artificial, and is confined to Wall street.

President Cleveland and wife will start tomorrow on their Western and Southern trip. They will be accompanied by Col. Lamont, the President's Private Secretary, and two personal friends of the President from New York. Kentucky's metropolis will not be honored by a visit by the party.

Gen. Wm. Preston, of Lexington, died last week at his home, after an illness of one month. He was 71 years of age, and has ably represented the Louisville district in Congress, and was Minister to Spain under President Buchanan. He served with distinction in the war with Mexico and also in the civil war.

Ohio Republicans raised a great howl against the Glenn Bill in Georgia, which provides against the co-education of white and colored children. But when the question comes directly home to them, they see it in an entirely different light, and kick like steers when the colored children march side by side with their own into the school room. At several places in Ohio the white people have asked the School Board to order a division of the schools, and their requests have been complied with, the colored children being ordered to schools of their own, notwithstanding the fact that the laws of Ohio do not provide separate schools.

The express train on the Texas and Pacific road was boarded near Fort Worth one day last week by two masked men who forced the engineer to stop on a high trestle, where two more robbers put in their appearance. The express car was rifled and about $30,000 secured. The passengers were not molested.

There is an ex-prison convict in Georgia who is struck on penitentiary life. He served a term of five years and is now busily engaged in confessing crimes which he is known to have never been in any way connected. He went to the Governor some time ago and told him that he had burned five or six houses and wanted to give himself up.

Col. Blanton Duncan says "Mr. Cleveland will not permit his name to be used for President again." The Colonel will soon be entitled to rank with Prophet Wiggins if he continue such idle predictions. Mr. Cleveland is a great believer in the theory that the office should seek the man. The Democratic party is compelled to endorse Cleveland's administration, and it is absolutely necessary that he should be re-nominated. Whenever his party signifies a desire for him to again head the ticket the President will not refuse.—Louisville Commercial.

Young man, when you jeer at a young lady passing along the street, or haunt and startle her with your ogling glances, did it ever occur to you that some other equally as mean a scoundrel may be insulting your sister or in coming years insult your wife or your daughter in the same infernal manner? How would you like that? Would you think it smart? Would you regard it as manly or an evidence of good breeding? If so you are utterly contemptible and ought to be kicked from one end of the continent to the other and then horsewhipped back again.—Ex.

Ability and Good Luck.

What a serene and gratifying race James B. Beck is having for the senate. He has only to gallop over the course and claim his prize. There are innumerable short and dark horses blanketed in the paddock, but they will be led back to their respective stables. Mr. Beck is not only an able man, but he is a fortunate one, and ability and good luck are qualities that a politician can always find use for.—Louisville Commercial.

What We Want to See.

Begin now, and encourage every enterprise that would point its nose this way. When reliable parties come along and want lands upon which to erect industries that will tend to push forward the interests of our town and community, let it go, and don't hold onto it just for the sake of proving that you can do so, for that is a "chestnut" practiced only by old fogies who think that life without rollicking, solitary and alone, in the confines of thirty or forty sections of land, isn't worth the living for. We want to see a jam—a perfect jam; a seething, crowding mass of humanity, toiling from early dawn till dewy eve; we want to see the smoke from hundreds of factories and furnaces ascending upward until it circles with the sun. And right here in this beautiful valley is where we want to see this change wrought. Look! haven't you had your sleep out yet? Shades of St. Patrick! let us then arise and move on with the truly enterprising people who converting huts into palaces and making of indifferent villages and communities great foaming cities and thriving business centers that are destined to attract some attention in the world. This we can do. If we at once go at it with a will and vengeance, and the many advantages we already possess.—Ex.

"I owe my success to printers' ink," said P. T. Barnum the other day. I have schemes coming to me now and then showing how I can get public notice more cheaply than I do, and presenting the most alluring methods for either underpaying the papers which serve me by a wholesale deal or else taking from them a certain part of these schemes I have but one answer: "I can't afford to save money here. I must use the press, and I must use it for all it is worth. No doubt I will save thousands at first by some of the devices and ways suggested, but this is economy that doesn't pay. If I am ever thankful for any instrumentalities it is for the editor and his paper. They furnish the wind for my sails."

The Commercial Conference.

The purpose of the Commercial Conference shortly to assemble in Louisville is to come to a better understanding among ourselves of the natural advantages and peculiar needs of our State, and at the same time to present to the world a truthful picture of the resources or section of country which, thank the Lord, the boomers have passed by. Each county will illustrate in some effective way its own history and physical condition. It will tell, not in a general but in a definite and particular way, about the value of its land, the product of its soil, the character of its mineral and sylvan wealth, its population and its transportation facilities. These reports will be tabulated and condensed. To them will be added special papers treating of various features of interest and moment, and we will then have one of the most valuable, popular compendiums of general information relating to the physical peculiarities of a State, in existence. Moreover, this convention will bring to Louisville a large number of visitors who understand little of our position and power, and nothing whatever of our relation to the growth and progress of the whole State. More and more, as our railroad system extends, are the distant counties brought into close connection with Louisville. We are interested in the prosperity of every section of the State, and stand ready to do our part in hastening the good time coming.—Courier-Journal.

John Pearson, of New Albany, a husband who has reached the mature age of sixteen years, is suing for a divorce from his wife, formerly Miss Alice Smith, of this city, whom he married last spring on the day that he first met her. Mrs. Pearson is her husband's senior by ten years.—Courier-Journal.

The man who pleads that he can't afford to take his home paper because he takes so many others is certainly not much force in the way of helping to build up his own town. Now kick, will you, and say that means me? Correct, we meant you. How would you like to have your customers all treat you to the same sauce, go to Cincinnati or elsewhere and buy their goods and then plead the baby act, that they could not afford to buy of you? Every home paper does more for its own town than a thousand published outside.—Covington Enterprise.

Resolutions of Respect.

HALL OF APPERSON LODGE No. 195, A. Y. M. Whereas, Death has taken from us our brother Eugene Wallace, Be it RESOLVED 1st, That we as Masons deeply deplore our loss. RESOLVED 2nd, That in his death this Lodge has lost a worthy member, and the craft an honored brother. RESOLVED 3rd, That in the death of Eugene Wallace this community has lost a citizen whose place as a man and neighbor it will be difficult to fill. RESOLVED 4th, That the Church sustains in his death the loss of a member noted for his sincerity and Christian life. RESOLVED 5th, That while we sympathize with the family in the loss of such a devoted husband and father; with our people in the loss of so good a man; and with the Church of which he was so long a member, we bow in humble submission to the will of "Him who doeth all things well". RESOLVED 6th, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of our deceased brother, that they be spread on the records of this Lodge, and that they be published in the Big Sandy News.

A Novel Bet.

While I am not a betting man, said P. J. Cheney, of the firm of P. J. Cheney & Co., I considered it my religious duty to make that fellow a bet, you see he was about dead, and I guess he would have died before Spring, if I had not got him into the hot. You know some men had rather lose their life than lose a hundred, well he was one of that kind, and we both came near being out, but I saved my hundred and it only cost him ten dollars. How's that? He sent for me one day and said the doctors had given him up to die, with the catarrh. I told him that I would bet him $100 that Hall's Catarrh Cure would cure him or I would give him $100 if it failed. He took the latter proposition. This was three months ago; you see how well he looks now, don't you, as well as any one, and a dandy.—American Toledo, O.

Mexican Mustang Liniment
CURES
Sciatica, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Burns, Scalds, Stings, Blisters, Bruises, Corns, Sprains, Strains, Stitches, Stiff Joints, Backache, Galls, Sores, Spavin, Cracks, Contracted Muscles, Eruptions, Hoof Ail, Scow, Worms, Pruney, Raddle Galls, Piles.

THIS GOOD OLD STAND-BY accomplishes for everybody exactly what is claimed for it. One of the reasons for the great popularity of the Mustang Liniment is found in its universal applicability. Everybody needs such a medicine. The Mustang Liniment is in cases of accident. The Housewife needs it for general family use. The Cattleman needs it for his teams and his men. The Mechanic needs it always on his work bench. The Miner needs it in case of emergency. The Pioneer needs it—can't get along without it. The Farmer needs it in his house, his stable, and his stock yard. The Steamboat man or the Boatman needs it in liberal supply aboard his vessel. The Horse-fancier needs it—it is his best friend and safest reliance. The School-teacher needs it—it will save him thousands of dollars and a world of trouble. The Railroad man needs it and will need it as long as his life is a round of excitement and danger. The Buckwheat man needs it. There is nothing like it as an antidote for the dangers to life, limb and comfort which surround the pioneer. The Merchant needs it about his store among his employees. Accidents will happen, and when these come the Mustang Liniment is wanted at once. Keep a Bottle in the House. "It's the best of everything." Keep a Bottle in the Factory. It immediately sets in motion a rapid and perfect loss of wages. Keep a Bottle Always in the Stable for any accident.

SANDY NEWS.

DAY, SEPTEMBER 29th, 1887.

V. Graham, of Catlettsburg, is here.

A. Hughes went to Portsmouth today.

D. Norris went down the river yesterday on business.

The fine rains of the last few days were badly needed.

Hons. K. F. Prichard and John F. Hager are in town to-day.

Alexander Lackey returned Tuesday from a trip to Frankfort.

Mrs. Galt, of Catlettsburg, was visiting in Louisa this week.

Mr. W. H. Waldeck is suffering from a severe attack of rheumatism.

The upper grade of the Louisa public school opened Monday in the second story of the Masonic Hall.

The work of laying track on the Chattahoochee extension was resumed yesterday.

Several deaths from flux are reported from across the river, in Wayne county.

W. H. Hubbard, of Richardson, left some cash with us for the News when in town to-day.

We still hear much praise of the work done on the river by Capt. McHenry and Hopson.

Revs. Williamson, Stratton, Holt and Snead left Monday for Greenup, where the M. E. Church conference is in session.

Ym. Hawk Sizemore was sentenced to the penitentiary for life at the recent term of the Floyd Criminal Court.

W. W. Mercom has purchased from Snyder Bros. a house and lot near the foot of the hill on Madison street, and has moved into it.

If you spit up phlegm and are troubled with a hacking cough, use Dr. J. H. McLean's Tar Wine Lung Balm. For sale by Freese & Norris.

Ed. S. Hughes & Co., is the style of a new general merchandise firm in Louisa. Their place of business is the building recently used by C. C. Leffingwell. They have a complete stock of goods on hand.

Wm. Thompson, Jr., to-day waived examination in the cases against him for shooting Chris and Johnson Thompson, and gave bond in the sum of $500 in each case for his appearance at Criminal Court.

Sick headache, wind on the stomach, biliousness and nausea, are promptly and agreeably banished by Dr. J. H. McLean's Little Liver and Kidney Pills. 25-cents a vial. For sale by Freese & Norris.

To those who owe me: Do you remember what is said of birds that can sing and wont sing? Well, my next invitation to pay your bill will be differently worded and signed by a different person.

G. W. WROTE.

A reward of $2,700 has been offered for the capture of Cap. Johnson and Ance Hatfield, and a posse of men, headed by a deputy sheriff of Pike, left Pikeville last week for the purpose of capturing the above named parties.

The following new books have just been received by the Louisa Library: "Lectures to Young Men," and "Select Essays and Sketches by Celebrated Authors." This last named book is one of the most interesting published.

The Chautauqua Literary and Scientific Circle, of Louisa, will meet at the residence of Col. Jay H. Northup, Thursday evening, Oct. 6th, at half past seven o'clock. Members will please come prepared to recite the lessons indicated in The Chautauquan for October.

G. W. WROTE, President.

Useful and Useful Medicines.

There is a certain class of remedies for constipation absolutely useless. These are the saline and potash salts in great part of the cathartics, those who use them are liable to be injured. They irritate the bowels, it is true, but always do so violently, and produce a reaction, griping the bowels, and finally a severe attack of dysentery. Better far to use the agreeable and stomachic aperient, Hostetter's Stomach Balm. The laxative effect of which is never produced by pain, or accompanied by a convulsion. Violent action of the bowels. On the contrary it invigorates those organs, the stomach and the entire system. As a remedy for colic and preventing material fever, no medicine can compare with it, and it cures the nervous debility, rheumatism, kidney and bladder inactivity, and other morbid ailments.

Quite a number of our people will be present at the laying of the corner stone of the church to be erected by the Masons to the memory of the Rev. Berl Sparleok, about two miles from Wayne C. H., W. Va. Elaborate preparations are being made for a grand time.

In cases of Fever and ague, the blood is as effectually, though not so dangerously poisoned by the effluvia of the atmosphere as it could be by the deadliest poison. Dr. J. H. McLean's Chills and Fever Cure will eradicate this poison from the system. 50 cents a bottle. For sale by Freese and Norris.

NOTICE.

All persons in Lawrence county and vicinity who are indebted to the Singer Sewing Machine Company are requested to settle in full with our Special Agent, Mr. J. E. Roberts, when he calls on you. Or he can be seen from 1st to 5th of each month at K. F. Vinson's, Louisa, Ky.

The wonderful healing prospect of Darby's Prophylactic Fluid in case of Accidents, for Burns, Scalds, Cuts, Wounds, etc.

Its prompt use will invariably relieve and prevent Erysipelas, Gangrene or Protruded Flesh. Owing to the cleansing and purifying qualities of the Fluid the most obstinate Ulcers, Bolls Carbuncles, and Running Sores are rendered pure and healthy and speedily cured; no other application being necessary.

FOR SALE.

The house and lot in Louisa where Leo Frank lives. The house is in good repair, and contains ten rooms, together with a nicely finished store-room recently used as a jewelry store. All the household furniture is also offered for sale. This desirable property is offered very cheap. For particulars call at the house.

THEIR BUSINESS BOOMING.
Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at K. F. Vinson's Drug Store as their giving away to their customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article from the fact that it always cures, and never disappoints. Coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis, croup, and all throat and lung diseases quickly cured. You can test it by getting a trial bottle free, large size $1. Every bottle warranted.

FOR SALE.

On Saturday, October 1st, All personal property about the Falls of Blaine belonging to John J. Jordan deceased, will be sold at that place. The property consists of mules, cattle, hogs, a fine Jack, wheat, etc.

Also, the personal property in Louisa belonging to said Jordan will be sold at Louisa on Monday, Oct. 3rd. J. R. DEAN, Adm'r.

Soda, like port wine, can be made for almost any price, which is done by using cheap and deleterious substances. J. Monroe Taylor's Gold Medal Soda is perfectly pure and unadulterated, and one paper will convince any intelligent lady that there is nothing equal to it. It will produce one eighth more bread than any other and much better to use with cream tartar. Grocers and druggists sell it.

BRACE UP.

You are feeling depressed, your appetite is poor, you are bothered with headache, you are nervous, and generally out of sorts, and want to brace up. Brace up, but not with stimulants, spring medicines, or bitters, which have for their basis very cheap, bad whiskey, and which stimulates you for an hour and then leaves you in worse condition than before. What you want is an alternative that will purify your blood, restore healthy action of liver and kidneys, restore your vitality, and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Electric Bitters, and only 50 cents a bottle at R. F. Vinson's drug store.

B. T. Dixon has resigned his position as agent and telegraph operator for the Chattahoochee at this place, and will leave next Saturday for Kansas, where he has accepted a position on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe R. R. We hope Ben will "strike it rich" in the West, as he is a competent young man and deserves success. We have been informed that Ed. Fisher, of Ashland, will take charge of the office at this place.

In Brief, and to the Point.
Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cooking, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics. But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in restoring this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

Obituary.

The death of the late Eugene Wallace has produced a profound sensation. Having been reared in this historic and beautiful valley he was widely known. His character was a rare combination of those sterling qualities which command respect and admiration, a man of integrity, purpose and refined sensibilities, a thorough gentleman. In all the relations of life he exhibited his manly nature, responding promptly and faithfully to the call of duty, extending aid and sympathy, and discovering to the world a high expression of that ideal: a perfect man. As a husband and father his life was exemplary and praiseworthy; kindness, gentleness and love were the pillars of his home. He worshipped the God of his Mother, and each day sacrifice was made by him whose labors rise up as a memorial and whose memory lingers as sweet perfume in his home. His wife and children were the idols of his heart. His love for them was manly, and his endeavors to make their lives happy and pleasant is evidenced in the beautiful home he made for them. There traces of his love and thoughtfulness are everywhere visible, their comfort was always considered first. What hopes and ambition he had for them, what sacrifices he made, form a part of the unwritten history that lives in the most sacred recesses of the human heart.

He was an honorable business man. The Golden Rule was at the foundation of all his transactions. He did not practice honesty because it was the best policy, but because it was right to be honest.

He never defrauded any one, nor took from any one unlawfully—his life in this respect has a moral, the same which is bound up in every Christian life; the inner prompting to do good and not evil. He believed that Christianity had its place in the secular affairs of life. In this he was true to his convictions.

He was a useful man in the church—his conduct was in harmony with his profession. His pastor knew of a man who would always be at his post of duty. Regularly he was in attendance at the Sabbath services, the Sabbath school and the Wednesday night prayer-meeting. His prayers, influence and money did much to aid the minister of the gospel and the cause of Christ. No man ever said of him as a Christian that he was untrue. His greatest desire was to "grow in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ." His sweet spirit and ripening character gave evidence of his nearness to the Sinless One.

As a husband and father he will be missed from his home, the wail of a widow and the cries of fatherless children will not reach him, but the infinite heart sympathizes with them and Omnipotence protects them. He will be missed from business circles, but the example of his upright life will live and many will profit by it. He will be missed from his place in the Church and Sabbath school, but the vacant pew will speak eloquently of his consistent life and the worshippers will say: "he is at rest in the city which hath foundation, whose builder and maker is God." Upon the hill that overlooks his old home he has been sepulchred until the Angel of the Apocalypse shall declare by the Almighty that time, shall be no more. Winter storms will rage about the aged hill-top. The winds will sob a requiem among the branches of the pines. Summer will come and grass and flowers caress the form of clay, but the spirit of the loving husband and father, the honored citizen, the consistent Christian "shall flourish in immortal youth, unhurt amidst the war of elements, the wreck of matter, and the crash of worlds."

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE MYSTERY.—It has heretofore been a mystery to us why strangers are generally charged so extravagantly by hotels in large cities. Happening a short time since at the Galt House, corner Sixth and Main Streets, Cincinnati, O., managed by W. E. Marsh, Jr., son of the proprietor who established the Galt House fifty years ago the mystery was solved. The accommodations in the Galt House are equal in every respect to the best two-dollar per day hotel, and yet the charges are only one dollar and fifty cents per day for meals and room: single meals thirty-five cents. The Galt is headquarters for the most complete meals, which together with free use of the parlor, office, check-room, etc., constitute the greatest bargain obtainable in the city. The solution is easy when the facts are known. The Galt is run exclusively in the interest of Strangers, the same Rate being charged per day at all times, to Everyone. What ever will produce a reasonable Rent for the property is the Extent of its charges, thus doing away with the usual Lessee's profits. It management is constantly under the immediate and personal control of the Owner, W. E. Marsh, Jr. Its employees being paid according to the volume of business, are efficient and reasonable in cost. The above peculiarities, a low, Uniform price, a reasonable Rent, per day hotel, and practical supervision of its internal affairs and Co-operative salary payments have secured for the Galt a fair transient trade, and the experiment is a success, producing Rent for the real estate. To this benefit, who has made it possible to stay Two Days in the city at the usual expense of One, we heartily recommend our friends.
